

Panel of Solicitors

Now that you have reserved your new home, you will want to move in as quickly as possible. Your choice of solicitor can make a big difference to how long it will take for your sale to complete, and we always advise purchasers to appoint a legal representative that has a good knowledge of the product you are buying. Long delays can occur if your chosen solicitor is not experienced in dealing with Shared Ownership conveyancing. Torus estimates that your sale should complete within 8 – 12 weeks of solicitors being instructed.

Please find below a list of solicitors who are experienced in the Shared Ownership conveyancing process and have dealt with a number of sales on behalf of Torus customers. Although we are unable to 'recommend' a solicitor to you we would strongly suggest that you consider using one of the solicitors from the Torus panel.

If you select a solicitor from the panel below, Torus will offer you a £500 contribution towards your conveyancing fee, this would be deducted from your total balance required on completion.
